Aloha Friend,

Our hearts are with the residents of Leilani Estates and Lanipuna Gardens, who were forced to evacuate their homes yesterday after a 492-foot-long fissure erupted and caused lava to flow into the streets. Governor Ige is working together with Mayor Kim and Hawai'i County to protect the safety, health and welfare of the residents of Lower Puna. He has proclaimed a state of emergency and activated the Hawai'i National Guard because the danger is of such magnitude, that preemptive action is warranted.

The five confirmed eruptions are also causing dangerously high levels of sulfur dioxide. People with respiratory issues, kūpuna, and our precious keiki are especially vulnerable. Governor Ige asks that everyone in the East Rift Zone pay close attention to any new developments and prepare now to keep your families safe. Now is a time for us to all pull together to ensure quick and efficient relief for the disruption and damage caused by the volcanic eruption.

Mahalo,

Team David Ige
