Aloha Friend,

With Hurricanes Iselle and Julio heading toward the islands, I wanted to write to make sure you are taking precautions with your family and property and staying tuned to the news and weather advisories from the National Weather Service's Central Pacific Hurricane Center and the Hawai'i State Civil Defense.

I've asked my supporters on the Big Island and Maui to suspend campaign activities and canceled Thursday's sign-waving events on Oahu. We want our supporters and everyone in the state to use this time to make emergency preparations and to take care of themselves and their families.

Below I have included a list of essential items you will want to have organized and ready. This campaign is important, but not as important as your and your loved ones' well-being.

Sincerely,
 David Ige
