Trusted Leadership for Hawai'i

Aloha Friend --

Valentine's Day means different things to all of us. As I run for Governor of our great state, it is a day I'd like to introduce my wife, Dawn Amano-Ige.

I met my wife at the University of Hawaii where we were both students. After 31 years of marriage, Dawn continues to be my best friend and confidant. She is a devoted mother to our three children who are now off to college. Dawn spent many years as a public school teacher. She is now a vice principal at an elementary school after recently serving as a vice principal of a high school here.

Education is the pathway to many opportunities. For Dawn and me, education is where we began our lives together. Education has always been and will always be a priority for us.

It is with the deepest respect today that I thank Dawn for her commitment to every child she has touched throughout her years in public education, our children and me.

Happy Valentine's Day,

David Ige
