Aloha Friend,

Today, Dawn & David Ige celebrate their 32nd wedding anniversary. It's been 32 years since I stood next to David as his best man and the intervening years have been full of many memories and accomplishments for them. It has been 32 years of sharing, learning, and growing together as they made their way together through life.

David would never have become what he is today without Dawn's love and support. She is his foundation, best friend, confidant, and companion on the road of life. They take pride in each other's accomplishments, especially those they have achieved together like raising their children. We were raised in a different era; working at the pineapple cannery during the summers ($1.60/hr) and walking home from Pearl City High School (1 or 2 miles) during the school year. Yet David and Dawn are where they are today because of hard work, integrity, and respect for others. We want a better future for our children and for Hawaii. The future will be brighter under a David Ige administration.

Together, David and Dawn will continue to lead the campaign with the support and dedication of people like us. And like their marriage, we will celebrate the successes and console each other when times are low. You are now a part of their extended family and when we achieve victory on August 9th and November 4th, it will create a bond that will surely last as long as their marriage.
