Trusted Leadership for Hawai'i

Friend --

Dawn and I are en route to celebrate our daughter Amy's graduation from the University of Rochester in New York. We'll be meeting up with our other two children, Matthew and Lauren, and Amy will be coming home soon. It is a joyous time for our family.

It's not easy leaving Hawai'i, but our family is the most important thing to us, and we want to be there with Amy at

Amy will wear a different celebration cap Sunday this milestone in her life.

I want to extend the warmest mahalo to my campaign volunteers across the state who encouraged Dawn and me to go be with Amy and vowed to continue campaigning for us over the next three days. When you see Team Ige sign-wavers or canvassers or receive a phone call from us over the weekend, we'd appreciate you saying a special mahalo, tooting your horn or extending an extra long shaka to thank them for us.

See you Monday.

Mahalo,
 David
