Aloha Friend,

Governor Ige extends his warmest congratulations to our keiki who are graduating from high schools across the state – and especially for the 17 students who are also receiving their college Associates Degree! For these double graduates, they have two reasons to celebrate!

Early College allows students to take college courses during high school for free! This encourages many students who may have never had the opportunity to attend college. Early College provides a wonderful opportunity for students to realize their dreams and can save their families thousands of dollars in higher education costs. As students work through their high school curriculum, they are also succeeding in college-level courses.

Early College works and that's why Governor Ige fought to obtain $1,500,000 in funding and is seeking to expand this program to every high school in our state.

Governor Ige and Team Ige sends our best wishes and the brightest future to all Hawai'i graduating students!
