Aloha Friend,

We have much to celebrate as we honor Prince Kūhiō today: This year is the 100th anniversary of the first Hawaiian Civic Club, and the 40th anniversary of the first Hawaiian Language immersion programs. Thanks to Prince Kūhiō and the many others who continued his legacy, the Hawaiian culture and language is thriving. That is why Governor Ige named 2018 the Year of the Hawaiian.

The collective successes of Kānaka Hawai'i and the people of our State are an example to the world. And, Governor Ige is working hard to reach more goals and to perpetuate our culture.

Honoring Prince Kūhiō's Legacy

20,000 speakers of Hawaiian language

$24 million for Dept. of Hawaiian Home Lands

Declared 2018 Year of the Hawaiian

Governor Ige honors and respects Kānaka Hawai'i and is working tirelessly to ensure the homesteads are sustainable and prosperous. That's why, under his leadership, the Department of Hawaiian Homelands has its best-ever funding.

Mahalo,

Team David Ige
