Aloha Friend,

November is National Family Caregivers Month where we recognize the significant contributions and sacrifices of the millions of Americans who care for family members that are chronically ill, elderly, or disabled.

In Hawai'i, many of us assume the responsibility of caring for our family, especially for our kūpuna because it is the right thing to do.

Under Governor Ige's leadership, Hawai'i became the first state to enact the Kūpuna Caregivers Program which provided much-needed relief for caregivers across the state. With a daily stipend of up to $70 for those who work at least 30 hours a week, many caregivers will not be hindered by the financial strains that sometimes affects many families across the state. The Kūpuna Caregivers Program helps them meet their needs without sacrificing the quality of the care the kūpuna rightfully deserves.

With the full endorsement of the AARP Hawai'i, the Kūpuna Caregivers Program also protects the dignity and livelihood of our kūpuna. Team David Ige hopes you will take some time to show your appreciation to caregivers who selflessly devote their lives to loved ones and those in need.

Mahalo,

Team David Ige
